

Summary of BrowserBased activities:

In late January 2013, Jan Robert Leegte and Z.F. Mesterhazy started up an open research framework: BrowserBased for net culture and dialogue in Amsterdam and were soon joined by Radovan Misovic as a main contributor.

BrowserBased Group functions as a practice oriented, open research platform which deals with the browser based context and net-culture as a space for knowledge creation and dispersion. We organize live coding sessions, gatherings for guest speakers, workshops, international exhibitions and more.

Currently, the geo-marker of BrowserBased is set in Amsterdam, where the group was first formed from the need to organise a physical hub for the networked arts. We offer a platform for net art, maintain archives of recorded streams and our exhibitions and run an open page of 1400 members on Facebook. <https://www.facebook.com/groups/browserbased/>

BrowserBased focusses on the progressive and dominant influence of the Internet, spurred on by the net being the central medium for communication, research, discourse, (re)presentation and art itself. Since we do not believe in geographical constraints and the governing academic conventions, we are constantly looking for collaboration with like minded, international communities.
